

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

-----
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

-vs-

02-CR-214S

SAHIM ALWAN,

Defendant.
-----

Proceedings held before the Honorable William M. Skretny, Part IV,
U.S. Courthouse, 68 Court Street,
Buffalo, New York on April 8, 2003.

APPEARANCES:

WILLIAM J. HOCHUL, JR.,
Assistant United States Attorney,
Appearing for the United States.

JAMES P. HARRINGTON, ESQ.,
Appearing for Defendant.

Michelle L. McLaughlin, RPR,
Official Reporter,
U.S.D.C. W.D.N.Y.
(716)332-3560

1 THE CLERK: Criminal case 02-214S, United 2 States of America versus Alwan.

3 THE COURT: Okay. This matter is set for 4 the taking of a plea pursuant to a plea agreement.

5 Is the government ready, Mr. Hochul?

6 MR. HOCHUL: We are, your Honor. Thank 7 you.

8 THE COURT: And seated with you at counsel 9 table are both Agents Needham and Britton, is that 10 correct?

11 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Also is the 13 defense ready in this case, Mr. Harrington?

14 MR. HARRINGTON: Yes, Judge.

15 THE COURT: Okay. And, Mr. Alwan, you're 16 ready to go forward?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: If you would stand, please. I
19 understand that you're not going to swear to Alla, 20 but you will affirm at this point, is that correct?

21 (Affirmation administered.)

22 THE COURT: Mr. Sahim Alwan, I'm going to 23 ask you to keep your voice up and to speak into the 24 microphone. I notice that you are nodding your 25 head a little bit, and sometimes I do the same

1        thing. The problem with that is it cannot be 2        recorded by my court reporter. So you must answer
3        yes or no when the -- when that is your answer 4        rather than nod your head, is that clear?

5                THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

6                THE COURT: Okay. That sounds good. I am 7        going to be asking you a series of questions. Keep 8        in mind that you have affirmed. In other words, 9        you have agreed to tell the truth, and that's 10       significant because I have the expectation that you 11       are going to give me truthful answers to my 12       questions. That's the government's expectation 13       also.

14               Because you have made that agreement, if it is 15       believed, for example, by the government that you 16       are not telling the truth, it can seek to bring 17       other charges against you. For example, under 18       certain circumstances making a false statement 19       under oath can be a separate federal crime, and 20       that carries with it a separate penalty distinct 21       from the penalty that you face in connection with 22       this plea agreement. Do you understand that?

23               THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

24               THE COURT: And similarly there may be 25       other charges that can be brought. For example,

1 under certain circumstances the crime of perjury
2 may apply. And perjury itself is a separate and 3 distinct crime that carries with it a separate and 4 distinct penalty, do you understand that?

5 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

6 THE COURT: Okay. And there are 7 references to both of those other crimes in the 8 plea agreement document, but for emphasis purposes
9 it should be brought to your attention before I ask 10 you certain questions, which I'm about to do in 11 short order.

12 Just so you know, the questions that I will be 13 asking you are essentially the same and identical 14 questions that I ask each individual who appears 15 before me as a defendant in a criminal case. In 16 large measure the reason for that is that the law 17 requires that I gather certain information that 18 will enable me to make certain determinations with 19 respect to what you know as far as your options in 20 proceeding forward. I have to make certain 21 determinations of whether what you are doing is 22 voluntarily or not.

23 And furthermore, I need to make determinations 24 in terms of your understanding of your 25 constitutional and statutory rights, hence the

1 purpose of asking particular questions in this 2 case. Is that clear to you?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: All right. As far as your 5 attorney in this case, it's Mr. James Harrington.

6 And, Mr. Harrington, you're an assigned 7 attorney, is that right?

8 MR. HARRINGTON: Yes.

9 THE COURT: All right. And I'd ask you,
10 Mr. Harrington, to keep your voice up also. I know 11 the microphone is not near you.

12 And that corresponds, Mr. Alwan, to what your 13 rights are under our constitution and laws of this 14 country. In other words, you have the right to be 15 represented by an attorney of your choice, and that 16 would be someone that you would hire at your own 17 expense. However, if you do not have the funds 18 sufficient to hire the attorney that you want, and 19 provided you qualified after providing a financial 20 affidavit to this Court and continue to so qualify, 21 an assigned attorney will be made available to you.
22 And in this case James Harrington is a skilled and 23 capable and competent defense lawyer who practices 24 regular in this court.

25 That lawyer right extends until this case is 1 complete in all respects. And there are a lot of 2 portions of the plea agreement that have indefinite 3 durations to it, depending on the completion, for 4 example, of your cooperation in this case. But in 5 any event, whenever you meet until the case is 6 complete with prosecutors, representatives of the 7 government, law enforcement personnel, agents, 8 police officers, sheriff's department personnel as 9 it relates to the facts and circumstances leading 10 to the charges in this case, you have the right to 11 have your attorney present.

12 And that right extends to that point in time 13 when you are being interviewed by the probation 14 office in its effort to gather information. And as 15 you know or should know, and tell me if you don't, 16 the probation office will put together a report.
17 And it will be on the basis of information you 18 provide, the government provides, the Probation 19 Department's independent investigation. When all 20 of that is complete, a report will be prepared, and 21 you will get to see it with your attorney before I 22 do, but in any event -- and that will be to enable 23 you to make any corrections or attempt to work out 24 any disputed issues.

25 Once all of that is worked out, it eventually

1 gets to me. If everything is in order, it becomes 2 final. I use that information for purposes of 3 sentencing. And if there are disputes that have 4 not been resolved, then it may necessitate the 5 conducting of a mini trial, in other words, a 6 hearing, where witnesses and evidence can be 7 presented.

8 The government would have a certain burden
9 perhaps at that, but it would be different from a 10 trial where the government's burden is proof beyond 11 a reasonable doubt. I may just simply listen to 12 the argument of the attorneys, or I may listen to 13 your testimony and you may be subject to 14 cross-examination.

15 When I get all of that information I will then 16 address the open issues or the disputed issues in 17 the presentence report, tell you what my reasons 18 are for the decision that I will make. I will then 19 make a decision. That will finalize the report, 20 and then I will give you an opportunity to make a 21 statement. Your attorney will have that an 22 opportunity. And the government may have an 23 opportunity if it's not inconsistent with the terms 24 and conditions of the plea agreement.

25 After I hear everybody out, I will be in a

1 position to impose sentence. Do you understand all 2 of that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: Now, I mentioned to you that 5 your attorney right extends until this case is 6 complete in all respects. And that would mean not 7 only today, but sentencing and any appeal to a 8 higher court that you may choose to take.

9 You also have the right to proceed on your own 10 without the assistance of a lawyer. Now, if that 11 was your choice and you decided to do that in 12 connection with an appeal to a higher court -- keep 13 in mind in order to be appeal eligible, you must 14 file a Notice of Appeal document. And that is 15 required to be filed within ten days after I 16 complete the sentencing judgment document paperwork
17 which follows the sentencing in this case. If you 18 don't do that timely, you may not be permitted to 19 take an appeal to a higher court.

20 Also, keep in mind that with respect to any 21 appeal waiver provisions in the plea agreement, 22 those will apply to what remains of your right to 23 appeal to a higher court, and they will be 24 controlling, do you understand all of that?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

1           THE COURT:   Okay.   Before I get to 2   proceeding forward in what your other rights are,
3   let me just find out a little bit of information
4   from you this morning.   Noting your orange uniform, 5   I take it at some point you were brought to the 6   Erie County holding facility from Niagara County is 7   that right?

8           THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

9           THE COURT:   And you came here directly and 10   you are in custody at the present time, right?

11          THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

12          THE COURT:   Did you have any drugs or 13   alcohol before coming to court today?

14          THE DEFENDANT:   No.

15          THE COURT:   How old are you by the way?

16          THE DEFENDANT:   Thirty.

17          THE COURT:   All right.   Married, single?

18          THE DEFENDANT:   Married.

19          THE COURT:   All right.   Any children?

20          THE DEFENDANT:   Three.

21          THE COURT:   Okay.   And where were you 22   born?

23          THE DEFENDANT:   Buffalo, New York.

24          THE COURT:   Okay.   And what's the highest 25   grade in school that you have completed?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Associate's degree.

2 THE COURT: Where was that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: ECC.

4 THE COURT: In what?

5 THE DEFENDANT: In criminal justice.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Approximately when was 7 that?

8 THE DEFENDANT: I graduated in 2000 -- 9 '99.

10 THE COURT: Okay. And within reason then 11 you read, write, and understand the English 12 language, correct?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14 THE COURT: Any difficulty understanding 15 me?

16 THE DEFENDANT: No.

17 THE COURT: All right. If you do, 18 interrupt, ask me to repeat things, I will do that.
19 If you don't understand the question, ask me to 20 repeat the question. If you're uncertain about the 21 answer, just let me know, and I will give you 22 whatever time you need to discuss matters with 23 Mr. Harrington until you're clear in mind so that 24 you can answer the questions that I'm in the 25 process of asking you, is that clear?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: All right. Have you had any 3 difficulty understanding your lawyer?

4 THE DEFENDANT: No.

5 THE COURT: Are you satisfied with the 6 legal representation that Mr. Harrington has given 7 to you?

9 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Harrington,
10 any reservations about your client's understanding 11 of the terms, conditions, or possible consequences 12 that he faces in connection with this proceeding?

13 MR. HARRINGTON: No, Judge.

14 THE COURT: Do you have any reservations
15 whatsoever on your client's competency to proceed 16 forward?

17 MR. HARRINGTON: No, sir.

18 THE COURT: All right. Do either of you,
19 Mr. Alwan or Mr. Harrington, know of any reason why 20 we should not go forward here today?

21 THE DEFENDANT: No.

22 MR. HARRINGTON: No.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Prosecution?

24 MR. HOCHUL: No, your Honor. Thank you.

25 THE COURT: Have you had sufficient time,

1 Mr. Alwan, to devote to, if you will, to digesting
2 your attorney's advice, considering the documents
3 in this case in making what is an important 4 decision in your life with respect to how to 5 proceed in this criminal case? Have you had 6 sufficient time to do that?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

8 THE COURT: Have you consulted with all of 9 those that you have wished to consult with?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Are you comfortable
12 with the documents in this case, in other words, 13 the plea agreement document, and the indictment 14 document, which is a two-count indictment that's 15 been returned by a federal grand jury against you.
16 Do you understand them and are you comfortable with 17 them?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

19 THE COURT: All right. Do you have any 20 questions about either of those two documents that 21 have not been answered to your satisfaction by your 22 attorney or anybody else that you have consulted 23 with?

24 THE DEFENDANT: No.

25 THE COURT: Do you want to discuss any

1 open questions about those two documents with me at 2 this point?

3 THE DEFENDANT: No.

4 THE COURT: All right. You mentioned to 5 me that you came here directly from the holding 6 facility in the custody of law enforcement. Do you 7 have any medical conditions that require you to 8 take medication of any kind, prescription or 9 nonprescription?

10 THE DEFENDANT: No.

11 THE COURT: Within the last year -- well, 12 two years, have you received any evaluation or 13 treatment for any mental health or substance abuse 14 problem, including drugs and/or alcohol?

15 THE DEFENDANT: No.

16 THE COURT: Have you taken any medication
17 today whatsoever, whether it's prescription or not, 18 over-the-counter, anything including aspirin or 19 anything along those lines?

20 THE DEFENDANT: No.

21 THE COURT: Anything that you know of that 22 interferes with your ability to clear think and 23 understand the proceedings as they are unfolding 24 with you here in this court today?

1 THE COURT: Okay. All right. We talked 2 about certain of your rights up to this point in 3 time. And I mentioned to you in particular two 4 specific documents. We are going to go through 5 those in detail, not verbatim, not word-for-word, 6 but I want to assure myself, and I want to be 7 assured that you are not only comfortable with 8 those documents, but that you have a clear 9 understanding of the contents of both of those 10 documents, is that clear to you?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

12 THE COURT: All right. Now assuming 13 everything goes according to script today -- and I 14 did get some last minute corrections or changes to 15 the plea agreement. I take it that's all there is 16 in terms of the document you've given me to review 17 in advance of this day's court proceedings,
18 Mr. Hochul?

19 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.
20 The Court will notice there's a handwritten change 21 on page 4 and page 5.

22 THE COURT: All right. Now, the original 23 document that bears those changes you have signed, 24 correct?

25 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: That's the plea agreement 2 document, and it's dated yesterday, which is the 3 7th of April.

4 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.
5 That's the date I signed it.

6 THE COURT: Okay. And you've reviewed and 7 discussed those changes with Mr. Harrington,
8 Mr. Alwan?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: All right. And you know that 11 if you chose to, you would not have to plead guilty 12 here today. I mean, charges are brought against 13 you. There's been a lot of -- at least 14 comparatively speaking a lot of court activity 15 relative to charges brought against you. But if 16 you chose to, you could go and demand a trial on 17 both of these particular charges, do you understand 18 that?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: And if there was to be a 21 trial, it would likely be before a jury with 12 22 individuals required if there was a verdict to be 23 rendered to be unanimous in that verdict. There 24 may be alternate jurors that would be impaneled but 25 would not participate in the jury deliberations.

1       There are circumstances under which a trial could 2       take place before a judge, such as myself, without 3       a jury present. But in either situation the 4       government's burden would be the same. It would 5       have to prove you guilty beyond a reasonable doubt 6       on each essential element of each crime charged in 7       the indictment, do you understand that?

8               THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9               THE COURT: If it failed to prove even one 10       of any of the essential elements of the crime 11       charged, you could not be convicted, do you realize 12       that?

13              THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14              THE COURT: If you were at trial, very 15       important is the fact that you would be presumed 16       innocent. That's the way our constitution and laws 17       are. They guarantee that you are presumed innocent 18       until that point in time when and if the government 19       can prove you guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, is 20       that clear to you?

21              THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

22              THE COURT: And that presumption of 23       innocence -- and if we went to trial in this case, 24       meaning you and the government before a judge, 25       myself perhaps, the -- because you are presumed

1       innocent, you could just with your lawyer -- and 2       you would have a lawyer throughout, Mr. Harrington 3       primarily, and you could sit back and wait to see 4       if the government has the kind of proof that 5       amounts to proof beyond a reasonable doubt, is that 6       clear to you?

7               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

8               THE COURT:   If you chose to though with 9       your lawyer, rather than just sit back, you could 10      question the government's witnesses with your 11      lawyer, challenge the evidence, put on a defense if 12      that was in your best interest.   You could even 13      give testimony if you wanted to, but nobody could 14      force you to do that because you have the 15      constitutional right to remain silent.

16             If you went to trial, and the jury returned a 17      verdict and you were found guilty, you would have 18      the right, with your lawyer, to appeal that guilty 19      verdict to a higher court, do you understand that?

20             THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

21             THE COURT:   Okay.   Now, if we go forward 22      today, what you're doing -- what you're doing is 23      giving up your trial right, your right to appeal a 24      guilty verdict in favor of entering a plea of 25      guilty, and in all likelihood appearing here the

1 next time in court for sentencing before me. Do 2 you understand that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: Now, what will happen on that 5 occasion is I will have that presentence report 6 that we talked about, and it will be made final and 7 you will be told by me what my decisions are with 8 respect to any open issues in that report, then you 9 and your attorney will get the opportunity to make 10 a statement after I hear you out and perhaps the 11 government, and then and only then will I go 12 forward with sentencing, is that clear to you?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14 THE COURT: Knowing all of that, is it
15 your intention to proceed forward?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Okay. You have the two 18 documents in front of you at this time, correct?

19 MR. HARRINGTON: Judge, I'm sorry, I
20 didn't bring a copy of the indictment with me.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Hochul, do you have an 22 extra copy or not?

23 MR. HOCHUL: I do not, your Honor, I 24 apologize.

25 THE COURT: Probation office to the rescue

1       once again. Thank you very much, Mr. Quarantillo.

2             Just take a look and make sure that that is in 3 point of fact the indictment. The number should be 4 02-Criminal-214, having two counts and returned 5 October 21st, 2002?

6             MR. HARRINGTON: Yes, Judge.

7             THE COURT: Mr. Harrington, that is it?

8             MR. HARRINGTON: Yes, Judge.

9             THE COURT: Okay. And, Mr. Alwan, that's 10 the document that you're familiar with?

11            THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

12            THE COURT: Okay. And the plea agreement, 13 as you know, is focused and linked to Count II of 14 the indictment, is that your understanding?

15            THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

16            THE COURT: All right. Now, we're going 17 to go through Count II at this time because I want 18 to make certain that you are in full understanding 19 of Count II. And in Count II -- are you looking at 20 it now?

21            THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

22            THE COURT: You've gone over this and 23 reviewed it and discussed it in detail with 24 Mr. Harrington?

25            THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

1           THE COURT: The count relates to a period
2 of time from in or about the spring of 2001 through 3 on or about August 2nd of 2001 in the Western 4 District of New York, which includes Buffalo and 5 Lackawanna, and elsewhere -- and the way this 6 charge reads is that certain defendants, namely
7 Yahya Goba, Shafal Mosed, Yasein Taher, Faysal
8 Galab, Mukhtar al-Bakri, and you, Sahim Alwan, did 9 knowingly and unlawfully provide and attempt to 10 provide material support and resources as that term
11 is defined in Title 18, United States Code, Section 12 2339A(b) to a foreign terrorist organization, 13 namely Al Qaida, in violation of Title 18, United 14 States Code, Section 2339B and (2). Did you follow 15 along with me and do you understand the charge?

16           THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17           THE COURT: And you understand that this 18 law is a relatively new and recent law, do you 19 understand that?

20           THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

21           THE COURT: Okay. Lets go from there to 22 the plea agreement document. And, you know, if you 23 have any doubts about the answer you're in the 24 process giving to me, break, take your time, talk 25 with your lawyer, clear to you?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Lets talk about the 3 plea agreement now, and with the advice of your 4 attorney I take it that you have signed the 5 document in your own hand. And I have one that 6 consists of 20 pages, and your signature -- at 7 least appears what appears to be your signature on 8 a line on page 20. Did you sign this with the 9 advice of your lawyer?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

11 THE COURT: And you were in full 12 understanding and comfortable with this document 13 when you signed it?

15 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Harrington,
16 you signed this document?

17 MR. HARRINGTON: Yes.

18 THE COURT: And your client signed it with 19 your legal advice, is that correct?

20 MR. HARRINGTON: Yes, sir.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Hochul, your signature
22 appears on the prior page, page 19, is that 23 correct?

24 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Okay. As I mentioned earlier,

1       you signed it on the 7th. Mr. Harrington and 2       Mr. Alwan appear to have signed it today, the 8th, 3       is that correct?

4               MR. HOCHUL: That's correct. I did sign
5       it yesterday, your Honor.

6               THE COURT: Mr. Harrington, you and 7       Mr. Alwan signed it today?

9               THE COURT: Okay. All right. Let's take 10      a look now at the plea agreement document. And 11      this document does consist of and include a 12      cooperation section, and it contains a detailed 13      factual basis which I will go through with you, 14      Mr. Alwan, because my job is to determine whether 15      that factual basis is sufficient in your case to 16      meet the requirements of a conviction under 17      Title 18, Section 2339A(b), do you understand that?

18              THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

19              THE COURT: All right. Now lets talk 20      about Section 1, page 1, the bottom paragraph which 21      sets forth the penalty in this case for providing 22      material support or resources to a designated 23      foreign terrorist organization. Count II, which is 24      the lesser of two charges in the indictment, 25      carries with it a maximum possible sentence of a

1 term of imprisonment of ten years, a fine of 2 $200,000 or both, so I can give you both, you
3 understand that?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

5 THE COURT: And a mandatory 100-dollar
6 special assessment, which is the cost of doing 7 business essentially in federal court. Whenever 8 any individual pleads guilty or is found guilty of 9 a felony crime in federal court, the sentence will 10 include a special assessment of $100, is that clear 11 to you?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

13 THE COURT: That will be made part of the 14 sentence in this case. Now, also as part of your 15 exposure for sentencing purposes is that in 16 addition to doing jail time, you may be sentenced 17 to a period of supervised release of between two 18 and up to three years. Do you see that as part of 19 paragraph 1?

20 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

21 THE COURT: Do you know what supervised 22 release is?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24 THE COURT: You discussed that with your 25 attorney?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: So, in other words, you know 3 that if you were to receive jail time in this 4 case -- and I haven't made up my mind on sentence, 5 you know that, right?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

7 THE COURT: That I can require after any 8 jail time is completed that you obey certain 9 conditions for a specific period of time. If you 10 were to violate any of those conditions, and the 11 government proved the violation -- and not prove it 12 by a beyond a reasonable doubt standard, it would 13 be less than that -- that violation could be 14 punishable as if it were another crime. So in 15 other words, you could be receiving an additional 16 two-year sentence on top of the ten-year maximum, 17 so that your maximum exposure bottom line here were 18 you to receive the full sentence on the violation 19 of the statute and the full sentence on the 20 violation of a term or condition of your supervised 21 release, you could do 12 years for the crime that 22 you are pleading guilty here today, do you
23 understand that?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Any questions about

1 your maximum sentence?

2 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

3 THE COURT: All right. Lets go to Section 4 2, and that references sentencing guidelines. And 5 the sentencing guidelines are in point of fact that 6 which controls your sentence for all practical 7 purposes in this case, do you understand that?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: All right. And you've 10 discussed the sentencing guidelines with 11 Mr. Harrington?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

13 THE COURT: And you know that the way they 14 work, bottom line, is this. The crime that you are 15 accused of committing fundamentally gets a starting 16 point number, and that's called a base offense
17 level number. And that number can be adjusted 18 upward or downward depending on the evidence, the 19 facts and the circumstances. And if you look into 20 this plea agreement which you have, there are a 21 number of adjustments that are discussed in the 22 plea agreement, correct?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

24 THE COURT: And why that's important is 25 because the way the guidelines work, they work

1 through a series of mathematical calculations for 2 the most part. And when the adjustments are made 3 either upward or downward or both, a resulting 4 number takes place, and that's the sentencing
5 number. That's called also the total offense level 6 number. And that number, generally speaking, the 7 higher it is, the more likely a higher sentence.
8 The lower that number is, generally speaking, the 9 more likely a lower sentence. And that number 10 corresponds to a chart at the back of the 11 sentencing guidelines book. Did you go over that 12 with Mr. Harrington?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14 THE COURT: And when you plug in that 15 number, and your criminal history score based on 16 your prior convictions and the type of crime that 17 you have been convicted of plugs into a box, and 18 that box basically relates the number of months or 19 years to be considered by the sentencing judge as 20 far as sentencing is concerned. Is that your 21 understanding?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: Now, as far as the guidelines
24 are concerned, they're basically a guide to me, 25 they don't bind me to do anything really. I'm 1 bound by the maximum sentence imposed by the 2 statute or the law, do you understand that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: And the adjustments that you
5 see discussed in this plea agreement are similarly 6 not binding on me. They are the best judgment of 7 the lawyers in this case. And in all likelihood, 8 the calculations will probably wind up that way, 9 but what happens is the Probation Department in its 10 report does a series of calculations also. They 11 may sometimes turn out to be different. My job 12 then would be to determine what the proper and 13 precise calculations are and/or should be. If my 14 numbers are different from yours and/or the 15 probation office, and you don't like my numbers, 16 that doesn't matter. You still are stuck with your 17 plea of guilty, do you understand that?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

19 THE COURT: Okay. So in other words, you 20 cannot withdraw your plea of guilty because my 21 numbers don't match the numbers in this plea 22 agreement, and you might be sentenced other than 23 described in this plea agreement, do you understand 24 that?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

1 THE COURT: And you know that I have no
2 commitments to you, correct?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: Okay. So, to a certain extent 5 that's a frightening unknown prospect to you, is 6 that a fair statement?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Now look at page 2, the 9 bottom of that particular page, and there's a 10 reference to the elements of the crime in 11 paragraph 4. And then if you look at the top of 12 page 3 there are set forth sentences following 13 numbers one, two, and three. And those in point of 14 fact are what the attorneys agree are the essential 15 elements of the crime in this case. Has that been 16 explained to you?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: And you know that the 19 government must prove each beyond a reasonable 20 doubt, and if it fails on any one, you cannot be 21 convicted, do you understand that?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: Knowing that, you still wish 24 to go forward?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Now, we talked about 2 the information having to be sufficient in the 3 factual basis statement for me to accept your plea 4 of guilty, you recall that, right?

5 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

6 THE COURT: Now, if you look at under 7 number three of the essential elements, it is 8 reflected here and you represent that you 9 understand that the term that we've been talking 10 about, foreign terrorist organization, includes Al
11 Qaida, and that by attending the al Farouq training 12 camp and transporting two videotapes from Kandahar 13 to Karachi, that you did provide material support 14 or resources to a foreign terrorist organization, 15 is that your understanding?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Lets go right -- that's 18 the segue, that's the transition now into the proof 19 that is being discussed in the factual basis at the 20 same time, and I want to go through that in some 21 detail with you at this time, because what is about 22 to come is what you are saying are the facts which 23 form the basis for the entry of a plea of guilty.
24 In other words, you are agreeing that these facts, 25 were they to be true and the proof against you at a

1 trial would be sufficient to sustain and establish 2 a conviction beyond a reasonable doubt, do you
3 understand that?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Take a look at 6 subparagraph A of paragraph 5, and it reads
7 essentially -- and I'll jump around a little bit, 8 but basically in approximately April of 2001, that 9 you, Sahim Alwan, together with certain 10 co-defendants, Yahya Goba, Shafal Mosed, Faysal 11 Galab, Mukhtar al-Bakri, and Yasein Taher, and 12 others -- and we have, I don't know, maybe six or 13 seven others that we're going to be talking about 14 in this proffered factual statement -- agreed to 15 attend a military-type training camp located in the 16 country of Afghanistan. And that you knew prior to 17 departing the United States, Mr. Alwan, that you 18 were going to train for jihad, and jihad is 19 described here as a struggle against those who are 20 not of the Islamic faith, is that your 21 understanding?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Now, going on in that 24 same subparagraph it makes reference to two men 25 whose identities are claimed to be known to the

1 parties, meaning you and the government, and 2 throughout the rest of this plea agreement will be 3 designated as Persons 1 and 2. And they were 4 responsible, according to this, for recruiting the 5 defendants that we just talked about, for their 6 trip to the training camp in Afghanistan.

7 Now, the recruiting of the defendants, so that 8 I'm clear, does that include you?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Now, the reference in 11 that subparagraph is a departure to Afghanistan to 12 train for jihad. There's no reference there to the 13 planned trip involving a camp associated with Al 14 Qaida or that the trip at that point was illegal.

15 Is the government's proof limited as it is 16 stated in this subparagraph at this point,
17 Mr. Hochul?

18 MR. HOCHUL: As to this defendant, your 19 Honor, yes, that's what the parties agree it could 20 prove with respect to this defendant's knowledge.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Now, if we go on to --
22 is that your understanding?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24 THE COURT: -- Mr. Alwan? Okay. Lets go
25 to second subparagraph. And it references there a

1 trip to Afghanistan, does it not?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: And it talks about a period of 4 time before that, before that trip, and it says 5 that you received money from two men designated as 6 Persons 3 and 4, not 1 and 2, but 3 and 4, and that 7 you were aware of -- or at least the two men were 8 aware of your upcoming trip to the military 9 training camp in Afghanistan, do you see that?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

11 THE COURT: All right. And they gave you, 12 according to this, money for the purpose of 13 defraying part of your costs associated with your 14 joining jihad training, that's the effort against 15 those who are not of the Islamic faith, is that an 16 accurate statement?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Then it goes on to say 19 that on May 14th of 2001 that you, together with 20 two of the defendants in this case that we've 21 talked about already, Yahya Goba and Mukhtar 22 al-Bakri, and another man, now this is man number 23 5, right?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: Okay. That you went and

1 started your trip from this area to the al Farouq 2 training camp. And it goes on to say that the 3 three of you, the three defendants, you, Yahya
4 Goba, and Mukhtar al-Bakri, and Person number 5 5 traveled from here, Buffalo, to Toronto, and 6 boarded a flight to Karachi, Pakistan, and that you
7 and this fifth person arrived in Karachi, Pakistan, 8 the next day, on or about May 15th, 2001, is that 9 correct?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

11 THE COURT: All right. Now, I'm not sure 12 I -- I mean, I have a recollection of some of the 13 information from the other plea agreements relative 14 to this trip that was referenced. There's no 15 reference here to traveling to London or the United 16 Arab Emirates.

17 What's the story on that, Mr. Hochul?

18 MR. HOCHUL: Your Honor, there was some 19 transit and stop over points at intermediate 20 cities, but for purposes of this agreement, the 21 most relevant part is they boarded a flight in 22 Toronto, and then deplaned with the intention of 23 commencing a trip to Afghanistan once in Karachi, 24 Pakistan. We simply have not included in this 25 particular factual rendition the stopovers in

1       either London or the United Arab Emirates.

2               THE COURT:   So it's not a part of the 3       agreement, but were there to be a trial, that might 4       be a part of the proof, is that a fair statement?

5               MR. HOCHUL:   Yes, your Honor.   Had there 6       been a trial, we believe we would have been able to 7       introduce evidence consisting of the travel
8       itinerary of Mr. Alwan, along with Mr.al-Bakri, 9       Mr. Goba, and Person 5, which would have 10      demonstrated the transition points along the way 11      from Toronto to Karachi.

12              THE COURT:   Okay.   I want to proceed now 13      to what's the second full paragraph, Mr. Alwan, on 14      page 4.   Do you see that beginning with "after 15      spending several days in Karachi"?

16              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

17              THE COURT:   Okay.   It now makes reference 18      to you again, and Person number 1, now that's one 19      of the recruiters, and Person number 5, one of the 20      financiers --

21              MR. HOCHUL:   No.

22              THE COURT:   That's the -- number 5 who 23      just came after the financing arrangements were 24      complete.

25              MR. HOCHUL:   Who traveled with Mr. Alwan

1 from Toronto.

2 THE COURT: Okay. And there's some 3 further traveling then to Quetta, Pakistan, where 4 all of you, according to this, stayed at a 5 guesthouse believed to be associated with Osama bin
6 Laden and the Al Qaida terrorist organization.

7 I want to focus on the "believed to be" for a 8 moment, but I'm going to go to the next part of 9 this discussion. And it says following the next 10 day, that you, Mr. Alwan, Person number 1, the 11 recruiter, and Person number 5, traveled to 12 Kandahar, Afghanistan, where you apparently all 13 stayed at another guesthouse, this time associated 14 with the Al Qaida terrorist organization.

15 Is there any significance to the believing of 16 the association with respect to Al Qaida and the 17 terrorist organization and guesthouse number one 18 and the actual associated with Al Qaida as to 19 guesthouse number two, Mr. Hochul?

20 MR. HOCHUL: Your Honor, the only
21 significance would be the fact that at the Kandahar 22 guesthouse Mr. bin Laden himself was present. So 23 the parties felt at this point that the conclusion 24 would be inescapable insofar as Mr. bin Laden was 25 present at the Kandahar guesthouse that, in fact,

1       that guesthouse is associated with him and his 2       organization.

3           As far as Quetta is concerned, the parties are 4       confident that it similarly was associated with him 5       in that this was a stage and a step on the way to 6       the ultimate al Farouq training camp. However, 7       insofar as Mr. bin Laden himself was never in the 8       Quetta, Pakistan, guesthouse, the parties agree at 9       this point that for purposes of the factual 10      rendition, that they agree it was likely associated 11      with him, but not conclusively so.

12           THE COURT: Okay. But it was then at the 13      Kandahar guesthouse, and this is where Osama bin 14      Lade apparently was --

15           MR. HOCHUL: Present.

16           THE COURT: -- right?

17           MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

18           THE COURT: That was where it is claimed 19      that you, Mr. Alwan, learned that the training camp 20      that you were about to attend was associated with 21      Al Qaida, is that your agreement?

22           THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23           THE COURT: Okay. And it was at the 24      Kandahar guesthouse that according to the statement 25      of proof that you viewed videotapes and heard

1 lectures which were anti-American in content, and 2 which also showed and tried to justify suicide 3 operations.

4 While at that Kandahar guesthouse, and on 5 approximately the fourth of five days, that's when 6 apparently Osama bin Laden appeared when you met 7 him, and it was at that time, according to this 8 statement, that bin Laden said to those at the 9 guesthouse that there were people willing to bare 10 their soles in their hands for jihad. Is that your 11 agreement with respect to what Osama bin Laden said 12 at the time?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14 THE COURT: All right. Let me ask you 15 this, talking about that fourth day at the 16 guesthouse. Is it your statement and agreement 17 that when you met Osama bin Laden, the then head of 18 the Al Qaida terrorist organization, did you know 19 the relationship at that time of Osama bin Laden 20 with Al Qaida?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Do you mean like --

22 (Defendant consulted with his attorney off 23 the record.)

24 THE DEFENDANT: I know he was the head of 25 the organization, but the word -- the name Al Qaida

1       itself is what I didn't know at that time. I know 2       he was --

3               THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.

4               THE DEFENDANT: I mean, we knew he was the 5       one in charge of that -- the organization that, you
6       know, was involved in this. But I mean, the name 7       itself Al Qaida was the one that wasn't clear at 8       that time.

9               THE COURT: So you knew that he was the 10      head of a terrorist organization.

11              THE DEFENDANT: At that point.

12              THE COURT: At that point.

13              THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

14              THE COURT: Fourth day, guesthouse.

15              THE DEFENDANT: When he came to the 16      guesthouse.

17              THE COURT: Okay. Okay. Now, next and 18      last paragraph on page 4. It says that five days 19      after your arrival in Kandahar, you and Person 20      number 5 and others traveled to the training camp, 21      which, according to this, you later learned was 22      called al Farouq, and was associated with Osama bin 23      Laden and the Al Qaida terrorist organization, is 24      that a fair statement?

25              THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

1 THE COURT: Okay. The others that are 2 referred to, does that include Number 1, because 3 Number 1 was with you up to this point in time 4 according to this factual statement.

5 MR. HOCHUL: Yes, your Honor, that does
6 include Person 1. Although Person 1 goes to a 7 slightly different part of the same camp.

8 MR. HARRINGTON: Judge, we better correct
9 that.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Let's hear from you,
11 Mr. Alwan.

12 THE DEFENDANT: Person 1 --

13 THE COURT: That's the recruiter.

14 THE DEFENDANT: Right. He was at a 15 different guesthouse at Kandahar. There's two 16 guesthouse basically. One was for the newcomers.
17 One was for -- he most have been an oldcomer. So 18 he traveled into the camp before -- before myself 19 and Person number 5 did.

20 THE COURT: Okay. And there's a reference
21 to others. Are those others that shall go unnamed 22 from the guesthouse --

23 THE DEFENDANT: Right.

24 THE COURT: -- you were in, the second
25 guesthouse?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Right.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Hochul?

3 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Then it says that over 5 a period of time consisting of the next ten days, 6 that you and others, while at the al Farouq 7 training camp, worked under the direction and 8 control of members of the Al Qaida organization and 9 received and took orders from instructors at the 10 camp. Did that happen?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

12 THE COURT: All right. Let me ask you
13 this. This camp we're now referring to as al 14 Farouq, I believe that there was a reference to 15 Tazizi (phonetic) camp. You want to tell me if 16 that's one in the same camp, or are those different 17 camps?

18 THE DEFENDANT: That's the same one.
19 That's what -- that's why it says over here later 20 on I learned it was al Farouq. What -- what it was 21 called while I was at the guesthouse was Tazizi.

22 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

23 THE DEFENDANT: And the reason, you know, 24 just the reason why they have a different name to 25 it is Tazizi basically means basic, that's why they

1       called it basic, so it was like a basic training.
2       That's the reason why they called it.

3               THE COURT:   And there's the difference
4       between basic training camps and advanced training 5       camps?

6               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

7               THE COURT:   Okay.   All right.   And then as 8       far as your, if you will, basic camp training at al 9       Farouq is concerned, among other things you're 10      admitting to receiving training and instruction in 11      the assembly and use of a Kalashnikov rifle, and 12      that you fired that weapon several times during the 13      course of your training.   Is that what you're 14      admitting to?

15              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

16              THE COURT:   Mr. Hochul, is there any 17      aspect relating to the "among other things" that 18      includes training involving the handgun, the 19      9-millimeter, the rifle, the M16 automatic, the 20      rocket propelled grenades, the launcher, et cetera?

21              MR. HOCHUL:   No, your Honor.   The "among 22      other things" would have just referred to other 23      directions that Mr. Alwan would have gotten during 24      the course of his stay there.   It does not include 25      the other weapons as far as the parties are

1       concerned. The government believes that Mr. Alwan 2       just received training in that one particular 3       firearm or rifle.

4               THE COURT: Okay. There's no mention here
5       of his receiving or performing any guard duty. Is 6       that also not a part of this scheme?

7               MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

8               THE COURT: Mr. Harrington, that's right?

9               MR. HARRINGTON: Yes, Judge.

10              THE COURT: Okay. All right. Now, we 11       just concluded this period of the next ten days or 12       so at this training camp.

13              And then the next paragraph says approximately 14       eight days after you arrived at the al Farouq 15       camp -- that's part of your ten-day period -- once 16       again Osama bin Laden appeared and spoke to the 17       persons at this camp. And by the time of that 18       visit by Osama bin Laden, all of the defendants,
19       Yahya Goba, Shafal Mosed, Yasein Taher, Faysal
20       Galab, Mukhtar al-Bakri, and you were at the al 21       Farouq camp, and that bin Laden's speech there was 22       about the alliance of Al Qaida and the Egyptian 23       Islamic jihad, and what he talked about was the 24       making of anti-American and anti-Israeli 25       statements, and he said to those in attendance --

1       this is Osama saying this -- that there were people 2       willing to bare their soles in their hands for 3       jihad, is that correct?

4               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

5               THE COURT:   Is that, in essence, the same 6       thing that he said when you were at the guesthouse
7       when you met with Osama bin Laden?

8               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

9               THE COURT:   Okay.   Now, there came a time 10      after that ten-day period or so when you say that 11      you left the al Farouq training camp, and you say 12      in this agreement that you had not completed all of 13      the training that was available.   Is that, in fact, 14      the case?

15              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

16              THE COURT:   Okay.

17              MR. HARRINGTON:   Judge, just to be clear, 18      it's not that he's saying it.   We're saying that 19      it's true.

20              THE DEFENDANT:   Right.

21              THE COURT:   Okay.   All right, fair enough.

22              MR. HOCHUL:   That would be the 23      government's evidence as well, your Honor, as 24      Mr. Harrington said.   He did, in fact, leave.

25              THE COURT:   Okay.   All right.   And it's

1       also true that you departed Kandahar, and on the 2       way out of Afghanistan that you were taken for a 3       visit with Osama bin Laden at a residence in 4       Kandahar, is that the truth?

5               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

6               THE COURT:   Okay.   And according to this, 7       it was at that meeting and at that location when 8       Osama bin Laden asked you certain questions
9       relating to what Americans thought about martyrdom 10      missions as well as how the brothers were doing at 11      the al Farouq camp.   Was that the conversation that 12      you had?

13              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

14              THE COURT:   Okay.   And it goes on to say 15      here that you were asked by another person at a 16      Kandahar guesthouse -- is that a second Kandahar 17      guesthouse now?

18              MR. HOCHUL:   Yes, your Honor.

19              THE COURT:   Okay.   And that other person
20      now is Person number 6, is that right, Mr. Hochul?

21              MR. HOCHUL:   It is, your Honor.

22              THE COURT:   Are you following this,
23      Mr. Alwan?

24              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes.

25              THE COURT:   Okay.   And you were asked to

1 transport to Karachi Pakistan certain items, and 2 they're specified here as two videotapes, which you 3 were told were the bombing of the USS Cole, and 4 which you assumed were the same as those that were 5 shown to you at the first guesthouse in Kandahar, 6 is that correct?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

8 THE COURT: Okay. And that you did take 9 them to Karachi and you gave those to a known 10 associate of Person number 1, the recruiter, that 11 would be Person number 7?

12 MR. HOCHUL: Yes, that would be the 13 seventh person who's been mentioned so far in this 14 rendition, your Honor, that's correct.

15 THE COURT: That person then, Mr. Alwan, 16 you agree is now Person number 7?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Then it says on 19 June 20th of 2001 you left the country of Pakistan
20 and returned to JFK airport in New York on the same 21 day. And then it says you are aware that a second 22 group of persons from Lackawanna, New York, was 23 considering traveling to the al Farouq training 24 camp in Afghanistan for jihad training.

25 Now that seems to be inconsistent here with

1 earlier information, Mr. Hochul.

2 MR. HOCHUL: Well, your Honor, if I may,
3 we believe the government's evidence would have 4 shown Mr. Alwan returned through Toronto, which was 5 his point of embarkation I guess or departure. And 6 if the Court would permit the parties, I believe we 7 could make that correction in the written document.

9 MR. HARRINGTON: That's correct, Judge.

10 THE COURT: All right. So the document 11 now will become consistent with respect to all of 12 the defendants being at the camp at the time that 13 Mr. Alwan was there as well as Osama bin Laden?

14 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Okay. All right. I will 16 permit the amendment to the factual basis statement 17 in that regard.

18 MR. HOCHUL: Very well. Thank you.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Alwan, do you have 20 anything that you want to comment about that?
21 That's accurate?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: Okay. When did you learn -- 24 and the reason I'm asking this is because it does 25 say here that you were aware that this training

1 camp in Afghanistan was al Farouq, but on the 2 earlier part of this factual basis statement you
3 had not yet learned that the name was al Farouq.
4 When did that knowledge come to your attention?

5 THE DEFENDANT: One second.

6 (Defendant consulted with his counsel off
7 the record.)

8 THE DEFENDANT: I want to say, first of 9 all, I don't dispute that this place Tazizi is al 10 Farouq. But the name al Farouq itself, I want to 11 make clear it doesn't mean that -- it wasn't -- I 12 learned of the name of al Farouq itself when this 13 whole case come up here in the United States when I 14 was questioned, you know, when I gave my statement
15 to Agent Needham, of the name itself al Farouq.

16 THE COURT: So when you say here that 17 there was traveling to the al Farouq training camp, 18 that doesn't mean you knew at that time that that 19 camp was referred to by the name al Farouq?

20 THE DEFENDANT: That's correct. I know it 21 was a training camp, but not al Farouq. And then 22 it was always called Tazizi, that's what it was 23 called.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Now, as I compute 25 everything out -- well, let me do this first. The

1 final two paragraphs on page 5 reference an 2 agreement, one, that there's an agreement of the 3 parties that Al Qaida is a designated foreign 4 terrorist organization within the meaning of 5 federal law. That's your agreement, correct?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

7 THE COURT: Okay. That's true, is it not?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: Okay. And from the 10 government's standpoint, at least what is 11 represented here, Mr. Hochul, this is the total 12 agreement as to the factual basis, but were you to 13 proceed to trial, this would not be all of the 14 government's proof with respect to the proving of 15 any 2339B(a) violation.

16 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Okay. There seems to be a 18 15-day period from the time that you apparently 19 left the al Farouq camp and flew back to the United 20 States according to the way this is structured out.

21 Is there any agreement with respect to where 22 defendant Alwan was during that period of time and 23 what he did, Mr. Hochul?

24 MR. HOCHUL: No, your Honor. We're aware 25 he was in the Kandahar guesthouse for a number of

1 days, and we would have had evidence of that. And 2 then also in a hotel in Karachi, the Farin Hotel, 3 for a period of perhaps a day or two. But, that is 4 the sum total of our factual basis at this time.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Well, let me ask you 6 this, were this case to go to trial, what would the 7 government's proof be at such time?

8 MR. HOCHUL: Your Honor, had this case 9 proceeded to trial, the government's evidence would 10 have shown beyond a reasonable doubt through, not 11 only the testimony of witnesses but also the 12 admission of what we believe would be evidence, 13 that, in fact, prior to the defendant's trips, 14 there was a series of meetings with the recruiters 15 and also the defendants who are named in the 16 indictment, including Mr. Alwan, in which the 17 subject came up about the need to prepare for jihad 18 and the need to go to a training camp in the 19 country of Afghanistan for this purpose.

20 We would have been able to prove that, in fact, 21 the defendant did leave from Toronto to Pakistan by 22 introducing the travel itinerary and the tickets 23 from Air Canada. We also would have been able to 24 introduce evidence consisting of Mr. Alwan's 25 passport which would have indicated an entry stamp

1 into the country of Pakistan on May 14th, 2002, as 2 well as an exit stamp on June 20th, 2002, from that 3 same country, Pakistan.

4 We further would have been able to introduce 5 evidence consisting of hotel records from the Farin 6 Hotel demonstrating that Mr. Alwan stayed at the 7 Farin Hotel for a number of days starting on 8 May 14th, and that he returned to the Farin Hotel
9 to stay on June 18th and 19th, 2002.

10 We further would have been able to introduce 11 evidence consisting of persons who were actually at 12 the al Farouq training camp while Mr. Alwan was at 13 the al Farouq training camp. Such testimony coming 14 from co-defendants in this case, including Faysal 15 Galab, Shafal Mosed, and Yahya Goba, who would have 16 testified as to what the training consisted of, the 17 fact that the persons in attendance were under the 18 direction and control of the persons who were 19 running the camp, also the fact that Osama bin 20 Laden came and spoke as represented in this plea 21 agreement.

22 We further would have introduced evidence 23 consisting of a statement that Mr. Alwan gave to 24 Special Agent Ed Needham on September 12th, 2002, 25 where Mr. Alwan admitted, among other things,

1 traveling from Buffalo to Toronto to Pakistan, and 2 then into the country of Afghanistan for training
3 at the basic camp. Furthermore, in the statement 4 Mr. Alwan would have admitted that -- we would have 5 been able to introduce evidence consisting of 6 Mr. Alwan's admission that, in fact, he did have 7 training in the use, disassembly, and maintenance 8 of a Kalashnikov rifle.

9 Furthermore, we would have introduced evidence
10 consisting of the fact that Mr. Alwan admitted that 11 the recruiter was in a different part of the camp, 12 and that he was receiving advanced training in the 13 use of anti-aircraft weapons.

14 Furthermore, we would have introduced evidence
15 in the same statement Mr. Alwan made to Mr. Needham 16 that the people who were running the camp were, in 17 Mr. Alwan's words to Agent Needham, crazy -- or had 18 crazy, radical mentality.

19 We further would have introduced evidence and 20 asked the Court to take judicial notice of the fact 21 that starting in 1998, there has been a prohibition 22 on any transactions with terrorists who threaten 23 and disrupt the Middle East peace process. That 24 particular directive on August 20th, 1998, came by 25 way of Executive Order 13099, and it was issued by

1 William Jefferson Clinton, the president at the 2 time. And, furthermore, on October 8th, 1999, the 3 United States Department of State specifically 4 designated Al Qaida as a designated foreign 5 terrorist organization.

6 We believe that after the testimony of the 7 government's witnesses and the introduction of 8 evidence, that a jury, in fact, would have been 9 able to convict Mr. Alwan in this case of material 10 support of the foreign terrorist organization Al 11 Qaida.

12 THE COURT: Let me ask you this,
13 Mr. Hochul, before you sit down now that you've sat 14 down.

15 MR. HOCHUL: I'm sorry, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: That's okay. Faysal Galab
17 made a couple of statements at least in his proof 18 offer, one, that on a couple of occasions, 19 defendant Alwan told him to lie relative to 20 traveling to Afghanistan, and also with respect to 21 Osama bin Laden and a statement that he apparently 22 made, Osama, that is that with respect to a 23 question that was posited to Mr. Alwan, whether 24 anyone in America is willing to die for the cause.
25 How does those instances as referred to by

1 Mr. Faysal Galab relate to the government's proof 2 if you were to go to trial?

3 MR. HOCHUL: Well, your Honor, as the 4 Court indicated, we would have had additional 5 testimony, and certainly what I've just provided 6 now to the Court as well as the factual basis is 7 just what we feel is necessary to prove the charge.
8 But, in fact, the government would have been able 9 to introduce testimony of Mr. Faysal Galab relative 10 to conversations he had with Mr. Alwan, in that 11 Mr. Alwan, according to Mr. Galab, told Mr. Galab
12 that the FBI had visited him, and that Mr. Alwan 13 had said to Mr. Galab that he told them he was in 14 the country of Pakistan for religious training, and 15 did not admit that he was, in fact, going to the 16 country of Afghanistan and did any training.

17 We would have introduced that evidence 18 certainly, and from that particular evidence we 19 would have been able to argue to the jury we feel 20 that that's evidence of an obstruction of justice 21 or a misleading of the FBI, and we would have asked 22 for an instruction from the Court that it would 23 have demonstrated -- or would have allowed the jury 24 to infer consciousness of guilt on the part of the 25 defendant as to the criminal charge under

1 indictment. So that would have been another 2 inference we would have asked the jury to make had 3 they heard and had the benefit of the testimony of 4 Mr. Galab.

5 THE COURT: What about the posited
6 question with respect to whether there are any 7 Americans willing to die for the cause?

8 MR. HOCHUL: Mr. Galab would have 9 indicated that that's what Mr. Alwan said to him 10 when he, Mr. Alwan, told Mr. Galab about the 11 meeting Mr. Alwan had had with Mr. bin Laden.

12 MR. HARRINGTON: Judge --

13 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Harrington, is 14 there anything you would like to comment about?

15 MR. HARRINGTON: Just so the record is 16 clear, those factual statements are not in this 17 plea agreement, and those are not admitted by the 18 defendant. And if we had a trial I'm thoroughly 19 confident that the representation that Mr. Alwan 20 brought out today would be what a jury would find 21 rather than what Mr. Galab said.

22 And you also have to remember here that we have 23 individuals in these six defendants who have 24 different levels of understanding of Arabic, and we 25 have language problems, and understanding problems,

1 and that's all I'm going to say about it.

2 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Mr. Alwan, 3 is there anything you would like to say with 4 respect to the discussions we've had about the 5 factual basis proof statement, anything that the 6 prosecutor has said or anything that your lawyer 7 has said?

8 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Let's move forward then 10 to the rest of the plea agreement. And as you 11 recall, we were talking about the sentencing 12 guidelines. And I just want to call your 13 attention, if you will, to page 6, paragraph 7, 14 which follows the starting number of 22 for this 15 particular crime that is at issue here. And 16 there's a reference to the possibility of a 17 12-level upward adjustment pursuant to the 18 guidelines, because the federal crime that is being 19 brought against you involved or intended to promote 20 a federal crime of terrorism, do you understand 21 that?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: And that's a finding that I
24 have to make in the process of what the numbers 25 should calculate out to be, is that clear?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: All right. And there is a
3 reference here to the fact that a three-level 4 lowering of the number for acceptance of 5 responsibility should be afforded to you, but 6 again, that's my determination to make, you
7 understand that?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: Now, there is an agreement 10 here at paragraph 10, page 7 that you and the 11 government agree not to move for, request, 12 recommend, or suggest any upward or downward 13 adjustments or departures other than the ones that 14 are specifically outlined in this plea agreement.
15 Is that your understanding?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Okay. We talked earlier about 18 your criminal history number and the final 19 calculated number for guideline purposes. And take 20 a look at paragraph 12 on the bottom of page 7. If 21 the calculations work out this way under the 22 sentencing law, in all likelihood, you would be 23 sentenced, according to this, at a level 31 and a 24 criminal history category of six, which under the 25 sentencing law would expose you to between 188 and

1       235 months in jail, well over the statutory maximum 2       of 120 months, do you understand that?

3               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

4               THE COURT:   All right.   And the guidelines
5       would include with it a fine of $15,000 to $150,000 6       and supervised release between two to three years.

7               Now you know you cannot be sentenced to more 8       than -- at least on Count II, to more than ten 9       years, is that your understanding?

10              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

11              THE COURT:   All right.   Now, we already 12       discussed that if I don't buy into these 13       calculations, that doesn't mean that you can 14       withdraw your plea of guilty, do you understand 15       that?

16              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

17              THE COURT:   Okay.   Now, there's a 18       reference at page 8 to the statute of limitations 19       in which it is represented that you agree not to 20       assert the statute of limitations under certain 21       circumstances, and that that waiver shall be 22       effective for a period of six months following the 23       date upon which any withdrawal of the guilty plea
24       or vacating of the conviction becomes final.   Do 25       you understand that that's the agreement you

1 entered into?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: All right. Section four -- 4 and this is before we get to the cooperation
5 paragraph, which is about to come. There's a 6 rights and reservations section, and I want to go 7 over that in summary with you. And in essence what 8 it says is that the government, assuming this plea 9 is accepted and sentencing takes place, will move 10 to dismiss that first count of the indictment, 11 which is the more severe count in terms of 12 sentencing. You understand that, right?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14 THE COURT: And secondly, that the 15 government has reserved the right to provide 16 information to the probation office relative to you 17 and your criminal history, that it can respond at 18 sentencing to statements that you or your attorney 19 make that may be inconsistent with the information 20 and evidence currently available to the government, 21 and that the government may possibly even modify 22 its position with respect to this agreement and the 23 sentencing recommendation in the event that after 24 this agreement, in other words, subsequent to this 25 agreement, the government receives information that

1       it didn't know about at the time it entered into 2       this agreement with you and made its recommendation 3       in this case, do you understand that?

4               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

5               THE COURT:   All right.  And you know that 6       you may be required to provide financial 7       information upon request to the probation office in 8       this case, is that clear?

9               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

10              THE COURT:   All right.  Now, we talked 11       about your appeal rights, and I told you -- and 12       this is at page 10, Section 5, that you have the 13       right with an attorney to take an appeal to a 14       higher court, but you also can, under our 15       constitution and laws, restrict or limit that right 16       to appeal, and that agreement has been entered into 17       here.  Both you and the government have given up 18       parts of your absolute right to appeal.  So that if 19       the sentence is higher than the guideline range 20       discussed, the government cannot appeal.  If it's 21       lower than the guideline range discussed, you 22       cannot appeal, do you understand that?

23              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

24              THE COURT:   All right.  Let's talk about 25       the cooperation that you have agreed to provide.

1 And there are multiple paragraphs in Section 6 on 2 multiple pages of this agreement, which, in 3 essence, set out the rules and the parameters for 4 an agreement to cooperate in exchange for a 5 possible benefit to you with respect to sentencing.
6 Do you understand that?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

8 THE COURT: And you discussed this in 9 detail with Mr. Harrington?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

11 THE COURT: And in essence tell me if this 12 is your understanding, that if and only if you 13 provide to the government what it believes to be 14 substantial cooperation will it then be obligated 15 to make a request of me to lower your calculated 16 sentencing number by a certain number of levels.

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: And do you understand that if 19 what you provide to the government in its view does 20 not amount to substantial cooperation, for all 21 practical purposes it's not obligated to do 22 anything further on your behalf, the government, do 23 you understand that?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: And that when the government

1 represents that in its view the cooperation was not 2 substantial, that's essentially not reviewable 3 other than if there are indicia of bad faith or if 4 perhaps the government does not include the full 5 picture of everything that you have done by way of 6 cooperation in its representations to me, do you
7 understand that?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Now, your cooperation, 10 according to this agreement, is not limited to the 11 prosecutor's office, Mr. Battle's office, or 12 Mr. Hochul, but it extends to any local, state, 13 federal, or military authority designated by the 14 government who have agreed to abide by the terms of 15 the cooperation section of this agreement, do you 16 understand that?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: And that can include testimony 19 in federal, state, and local courts, including 20 military commissions, in the jurisdictions that 21 have agreed to abide by the terms and conditions of 22 this agreement. Do you understand that?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

24 THE COURT: But the guarantee or assurance 25 you have is that in no event will you be removed

1 from United States' custody.

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Now, the government has 4 further cut you a deal, and it says that you will 5 not, in exchange for your compliance with this plea 6 agreement and cooperation, be prosecuted by the 7 United States Government including military 8 authorities -- and you represent that you have the 9 authority from them to make that representation,
10 Mr. Hochul?

11 MR. HOCHUL: I do, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: -- for any other criminal 13 offenses committed anywhere in any way involving or 14 relating to providing material support or resources 15 to a foreign terrorist organization and/or engaging 16 in transactions with a specially designated 17 terrorist and/or terrorist organization and/or the 18 defendant's trip, meaning your trip, to Afghanistan 19 committed up to the date of this agreement, and 20 about which you have provided complete and truthful 21 information. You understand that?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: What does that mean with 24 respect to the defendant's trip to Afghanistan? I 25 thought that's what we're talking about here.

1           MR. HOCHUL: It is, your Honor. I believe 2 this is just further specification that what we're 3 talking about is the defendant's trip to 4 Afghanistan. But it was already clear without that 5 information between the two commas that he will not 6 be prosecuted for any transaction with a foreign 7 terrorist organization.

8           THE COURT: This is your effort to make 9 more clear what was already clear?

10          MR. HOCHUL: I can only represent to the 11 Court I agreed to that clause. I didn't suggest 12 that clause. I believe that came at the request of 13 Mr. Alwan and his attorney.

14          MR. HARRINGTON: Judge, if you want me to 15 clarify it --

16          THE COURT: Please.

17          MR. HARRINGTON: The agreement just 18 related to material assistance to a terrorist 19 organization. And the additional language is to 20 cover other potential offenses that might not fit 21 under that particular section, that's all.

22          THE COURT: Deriving from the trip and 23 activity in Afghanistan?

24          MR. HARRINGTON: Yes.

25          THE COURT: Fair enough. Okay. But this

1 does not -- this agreement doesn't preclude any 2 prosecution for any attempt murder, act of murder, 3 act of physical violence against a person of 4 another, you understand that, Mr. Alwan?

6 THE COURT: Okay. All right. And you
7 understand too, I take it -- if you don't, let me 8 know -- that any -- no testimony or statements or 9 objects that you may have provided to the 10 government in compliance with this agreement will 11 be used against you in any criminal case or 12 military commission, except were you furthermore to 13 be prosecuted for perjury or making false 14 statements, and we talked about that briefly at the 15 beginning, right?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: That's your understanding?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Now, let's go to what 20 you get for cooperating substantially, 21 understanding that I'm not bound or locked into 22 this. But if -- is that correct, you understand 23 that?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: All right. And I will

1 consider everything presented to me by you, by 2 Mr. Harrington with respect to the appropriateness 3 of a sentence, and how to act with respect to any 4 request of the government to downwardly depart, and 5 here's what the government says. It says that if 6 you substantially cooperate, it will, meaning the 7 government, ask me to sentence you and downwardly 8 depart by seven levels. And it posits two 9 scenarios where by doing that, if I were to grant 10 that request -- and the under the law I'm required 11 to give that request what is called due deference.
12 In other words, I have to consider it seriously 13 from the government. And that if I do it on the 14 basis of the calculation that's set forth here, 15 your sentencing would wind up at a level 24 and a 16 sentencing range of 100 to 125 months, essentially 17 less than the statutory maximum of 120. There is a 18 five-month excess there. But the recommendation 19 then to me will be that I give you a 108-month 20 sentence or nine years. Do you understand that's 21 the agreement that you've entered into with the 22 government?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

24 THE COURT: All right. And then the 25 alternative that's talked about there is if the

1 calculation winds up being from a different series 2 of numbers or levels, nevertheless the government's 3 recommendation will be the same, 108 months or nine
4 years, is that your understanding?

5 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

6 THE COURT: Okay. And once again, my 7 analysis of the guidelines and what controls for 8 calculation purposes is what determines the numbers 9 that apply for a consideration of sentence in your 10 case, is that clear?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Now your agreement, by 13 the way, if you look at paragraph 24, that's at the 14 top of page 14, it's not contingent upon whatever 15 you give to the government resulting in the filing 16 of any charges against or the additional return of 17 an indictment or successful prosecution of any 18 person or entity, is that your understanding?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: And if you look at 21 paragraph 26, in the event that I'm requested by 22 the government and declare that you have breached 23 this agreement, you are exposed to the following.
24 In other words, the government, one, will be 25 relieved of its obligations under the terms and

1 conditions of this agreement, do you understand 2 that?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: And that the government can 5 rely on certain statements and information that you 6 gave to establish the violation that results in the 7 revocation of this agreement, do you understand 8 that?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: And if the agreement is 11 declared breach, in other words, broken, that 12 doesn't mean that you will have a right to withdraw 13 your plea of guilty, do you understand that?

14 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

15 THE COURT: The government can make a 16 request to me to withdraw that downward departure 17 request that we talked about, right?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

19 THE COURT: Okay. And that there is also 20 the fact that other than what you say in open court 21 here, your statements can be used directly or 22 indirectly in any and all criminal proceedings 23 against you, do you understand that?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: And you agree further not to

1       assert the statute of limitations as a defense to 2       any criminal offense that will result involving or 3       related to providing material support to a foreign 4       terrorist organization which is not time barred at 5       the date of this agreement, and for an effective 6       period of an additional six months, do you
7       understand that?

8               THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

9               THE COURT:   All right.  And if you have 10       not fulfilled your full cooperation so that you get 11       the maximum benefit of your cooperation agreement, 12       request can be made to extend the sentencing date 13       in this case, do you understand that?

14              THE DEFENDANT:   Yes, sir.

15              THE COURT:   All right.  Look at page 17, 16       Section 7, and it's called enemy combatant status, 17       which has serious aspects to that classification.
18       And what paragraph 29 says is that the United 19       States, meaning the prosecutor, agrees to forego 20       any right that it would have to detain you as an 21       enemy combatant based upon the conduct in the 22       factual basis or any other conduct about which you 23       have provided complete and truthful information, 24       provided you comply with all of the terms and 25       conditions of this agreement.  That's the deal.  Is 1       that your understanding?

2               THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3               THE COURT: Okay. All right. Section 8, 4       and we talked about your providing financial 5       information to the probation office when requested 6       to do so. But this agreement also has an aspect to 7       it where, were there to be any profits or proceeds 8       that you might be entitled to receive in some 9       fashion because of certain publications or 10      information that results from the conduct involving 11      this indictment, that you give your right to those 12      dollars to the United States, and that you cannot 13      benefit from those monies or profits, regardless of 14      whether those monies are made payable directly to 15      you or to others in benefit of not only you, but of 16      them, or your family members, and that there can be 17      no assignment that you enter into which can defeat 18      the thrust and understanding of this particular 19      assignment of profits, do you understand that?

20              THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

21              THE COURT: Okay. Page 18, Section 9, 22      designation. The government agrees -- do you 23      normally recommend to the Bureau of Prisons where 24      there should be a designation of a defendant?

25              MR. HOCHUL: No, your Honor, ordinarily in

1 my practice we do not. We simply leave the 2 complete decision to the Bureau of Prisons. I know 3 periodically defendants request the Court to make 4 certain recommendations, but in those instances it 5 is left to the Bureau of Prisons.

6 In this case we represent on behalf of 7 Mr. Alwan that we will affirmatively make 8 recommendations that he be placed in the facility 9 closest to his family here in Western New York.
10 The parties agree in this provision, however, that 11 while we'll make that recommendation, certainly the 12 final decision will be up to the Bureau of Prisons.

13 THE COURT: Not only is it to the facility 14 nearest this locality, but it's the least secure of 15 the facilities to which he would qualify. And 16 secondly, that hand-in-hand with that is that there 17 be an affirmative representation from the 18 government that Mr. Alwan not be designated to the 19 administrative maximum facility at Florence, 20 Colorado?

21 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.
22 And that's one of the things that we committed to 23 in this agreement.

24 THE COURT: Okay. That to me seems to be 25 the full and total agreement entered into between

1 the parties. Are there any other promises or 2 representations that have been made to you,
3 Mr. Alwan, that are not contained in this written 4 agreement that you are relying upon in your 5 decision to, one, enter into the written agreement, 6 and, two, to enter a plea of guilty to Count II of 7 the indictment?

8 THE DEFENDANT: No.

9 THE COURT: Do you understand that 10 question?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Okay. There is a reference
13 here to -- on page 19 at the top. And it says this 14 agreement supersedes any other prior agreements 15 written or oral entered into between the government 16 and the defendant.

17 Were there other agreements, Mr. Hochul?

18 MR. HOCHUL: Your Honor, there was a 19 proffer agreement which did not involve the 20 disposition of this case, but that's a sort of 21 agreement I suppose between the parties. This 22 particular document will now control the defendant 23 and the government as we go forward from this date.

24 THE COURT: All right. That is your 25 understanding also, Mr. Alwan?

2 THE COURT: Okay. All right. In essence,
3 with respect to this statutory violation of Count 4 II, Mr. Hochul, are you saying that it is the 5 government's position that the participation as 6 described in and outlined in the Al Qaida al Farouq
7 camp, as well as the transporting of the two videos 8 constitute the essence of the government's case
9 with respect to Mr. Alwan for purposes of a 10 violation of 2339?

11 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: And that is with respect to 13 providing material support and resources to a 14 terrorist organization, namely Al Qaida?

15 MR. HOCHUL: That's correct, or attempting 16 to as well.

17 THE COURT: Yes, I stand corrected. Thank 18 you. Okay. I'm prepared to accept and make a part 19 of the record the plea agreement in this case, 20 unless I otherwise hear objection.

21 Is there any objection from you, Mr. Alwan?

22 THE DEFENDANT: No, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Harrington?

25 THE COURT: Mr. Hochul?

1 MR. HOCHUL: No, not from the government,
2 your Honor. Thank you.

3 THE COURT: Okay. The agreement is now
4 part of the record in this case. It's accepted.
5 I'm going to ask you now, Mr. Alwan, how you plead
6 to knowingly and unlawfully as charged in Count II 7 of the indictment, provide and attempt to provide 8 material support and resources to a foreign 9 terrorist organization, namely al Qaida as defined 10 and determined in federal law, do you plead guilty 11 or not guilty?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

13 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Sahim Alwan, I 14 find specifically that your plea of guilty is a 15 knowing plea, in other words, you understand the 16 terms, the conditions, and the possible 17 consequences that you face in connection with this 18 proceeding, correct?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: That you have done what you 21 have just done now voluntarily, that nobody has 22 forced or threatened you to enter into the plea 23 agreement, or to enter a plea of guilty in this 24 case, and your plea of guilty is therefore 25 voluntary, is that your statement to me?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: And I so find. And I find 3 specifically that were this case to go to trial, 4 whether it was before me without a jury, or before 5 a jury of 12 individuals who are required to return 6 a unanimous verdict in the return of a verdict, 7 that the proof here in my view would be sufficient 8 for a trier of fact as a basis for a determination 9 that each essential element of the crime charged 10 has been satisfied by the government's proof beyond 11 a reasonable doubt, therefore resulting in a 12 conviction that is sustainable by that proof 13 standard beyond a reasonable doubt. I, therefore, 14 accept your guilty plea, and I now adjudge you 15 guilty of having committed this crime as charged in 16 Count II of the indictment.

17 Do you have any questions about what I have 18 said, what I have just done with you?

19 THE DEFENDANT: No, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Sentencing will be?

21 THE CLERK: Thursday, July 31st at 22 10:00 o'clock.

23 THE COURT: Thursday, July 31st at 24 10:00 o'clock.

25 Anything further that needs to be addressed at 1       this time, Mr. Hochul?

2               MR. HOCHUL: Your Honor, there is a
3       pending motion before Judge -- Magistrate Judge
4       Schroeder, relating to Mr. Alwan's continued status
5       as far as detention is concerned. Will the Court 6       make certain findings at this time?

7               THE COURT: I will.

8               Mr. Harrington, anything you want to add in 9       that regard?

10              MR. HARRINGTON: No, Judge. We consent
11      now to his detention.

12              THE COURT: Okay. I will accept that --

13              MR. HOCHUL: Very well.

14              THE COURT: -- as full compliance with the 15      requirements, including the incorporation of my 16      determination that what we are dealing with is a 17      crime of violence, that the provision relating to 18      the period of time from sentencing -- from plea to 19      sentencing given that this is a crime of violence, 20      given that there is a consent, given that there is 21      clear and convincing proof with respect to the 22      likelihood of flight and the dangerousness, all of 23      those elements being satisfied, that detention will 24      continue in this case. That is my finding.

25              MR. HOCHUL: Very well. Thank you, your

1 Honor.
